Job Announcement: Camp Nurse – 2025 Young Musicians Program

The Walden School, a summer music festival for musicians interested in improvisation and composition, in residence each summer at the Dublin School in Dublin, New Hampshire, seeks a camp nurse for the 2025 summer session of its Young Musicians Program.

Responsibilities include working with the Program Director, Director of Operations, and program leadership team to ensure health and wellness among the residential community's approximately 55 students and 20 faculty and staff; reviewing all student medical forms and educating Walden's faculty and staff regarding important information contained within; supervising the care of sick students during the summer session; communicating and working with parents of students in incidence of student illness and/or injury; management of documentation and staff assistants; overseeing the regular disbursement of over-the-counter and prescribed student medications; hiking with the community on Saturdays at nearby mountains; and performing other duties as determined by the Executive Director.

The successful candidate will be available June 22, 2025 through August 4, 2025, with some potential hours working remotely in advance of the summer session. We are open to both a residential nurse who would live onsite at Walden during this time period or someone who lives near to Dublin, New Hampshire, who is able to be on call evenings and weekends.

The Camp Nurse's primary responsibility is to work with the Leadership Teams, Faculty, & Staff to create and maintain a safe, healthy environment during The Walden School summer session in New Hampshire. The position reports to the Executive Director, and works closely with the Director of Operations and the program Leadership Team.

Specific responsibilities include:

- Participating in and leading parts of Faculty / Staff Orientation and regular Faculty / Staff meetings as necessary.
- Greeting participants, parents and students on arrival day and completing a health screening (including lice check); maintaining all on-going communications with parents and guardians regarding the health status of children in the care of The Walden School.
- Reviewing medical forms from students/families and advising faculty and staff of any important information contained therein that affect the care of the students.

- Reviewing student dietary restrictions and possible food allergies and working with the Director of Operations in communicating with kitchen staff about maintaining healthy and safe student meal services.
- Checking in on any sick students throughout the summer session; providing care and arranging for supplementary/off-campus care, as required.
- Managing and overseeing the disbursement of regular student medications, as required.
- Stocking and maintaining adequate first aid kits and over-the-counter medical supplies.
- Arranging doctor's appointments as necessary and working with the Director of Operations to arrange transportation for students to and from appointments.
- Hiking four nearby mountains with the entire Walden community on Saturdays (July 5, 12, 19, and 26) and monitoring health/safety issues associated with any and all off-campus trips, including swim trips.
- Advising program leadership, staff, and faculty about any ongoing health issues in the community and care for students throughout their stay on campus.
- Responding to health issues as they arise during the course of the summer program.
- Possibly training The Walden School faculty and staff in basic first aid and/or other health-related matters.
- Supervising nurse assistants (non-clinical members of the staff team)

Requirements: Must have valid and current New Hampshire nursing license (RN preferred). Ability to lift packages and boxes up to 25lbs is required.

Compensation: Salary, room & board. Some travel reimbursement to/from Dublin, New Hampshire. Meals on campus in dining hall. Possibility for this to be a residential position on campus at Dublin School or an hourly, commuting position.

To Apply: Please send a cover letter and current resume, to Seth Brenzel, Executive Director, at jobs@waldenschool.org. We will review applications from interested candidates and contact you should we wish to offer you an interview. We are sorry that we are not able to respond to all applications received. The position is based in Dublin, New Hampshire, and it is open until filled.
